A Complete Solution to Offer a Differentiated Online Banking Experience

Credit unions and community banks that want to provide a host of competitive online products and services no longer need to rely on legacy systems. FI-Mobile OLB is a modern, unified, multi-channel digital banking solution.

Because mobile banking has become a critical, high-growth channel for financial institutions, FI-Mobile OLB was designed from the ground up with mobile banking requirements at the forefront. As a result, above and beyond supporting desktop and home banking needs for members and customers, FI-Mobile modernizes the online banking infrastructure to consistently offer all services online and on virtually any device.

With FI-Mobile OLB, credit unions and community banks can offer comprehensive online member and customer capabilities including: a branded mobile app with a simple user interface and easy administration; core systems integration; robust cash management features that support commercial accounts; online and desktop banking capabilities; and more. Because of the simple design and user interface, FI-Mobile OLB does not require extensive IT support to add new services and branding.
